Transportation Systems

Listed below are items common within most households that are prohibited for transport or storage. As this list does not include all items prohibited for shipment, please contact your relocation coordinator should you wish to ship or store any item which may be hazardous.

Please note the additional current U.S. government warnings: Hover Boards and Samsung Note 7 Phone.

- Paint
- Motor Oil
- Firewood
- Charcoal
- Matches
- Antifreeze/Coolant
- Lighters
- Gas cans
- Pesticides

- Compressed Gas
- Aerosols
- Propane Tanks*
- Fire Extinguishers

* Even if empty, a propane tank in your shipment may cause an inspection or rejection of your shipment, creating delays and increasing costs.

- Bleach
- Batteries
- Drain Cleaners
- Peroxides
- Insecticides
- Auto Batteries

- Rechargeable Lithium Batteries

Rechargeable lithium batteries used to power laptop computers are classified "hazardous" (flammable) by the US Federal Aviation Administration and prohibited from inclusion within an unaccompanied air cargo shipment. Rechargeable lithium batteries must be removed from a laptop computer (or any device) for transport. We recommend rechargeable lithium batteries be included within carry-on luggage or a surface shipment.
